

VACANCY NOTICE

Immunoassay Lab In-charge

One Immunoassay Lab In-charge position is available in the ICGEB Molecular Medicine Group for a BIRAC funded Phase I clinical trial of P. falciparum malaria vaccine to manage overall operation of Immunoassay laboratory during Clinical Trial and perform a variety of Immunoassay validations and clinical trial sample analysis in accordance with Good Clinical Laboratory Practice. Initially, this position is available for the six months and based on the performance of the candidate can be further extended.

Educational qualification:

Ph.D. degree in Life Sciences/Biotechnology.

Candidate must have minimum 5 years of experience in Immunoassays & Cell Culture, molecular biological methods, recombinant protein expression & purification.

Interested Candidates should submit their application with full, updated Curriculum Vitae with a detailed description of research experience along with two references by 30th November. The application with the subject line "Application for the post of Immunoassay Lab in-charge" should be addressed to Prof. V.S. Chauhan.

Email: profviranderschauhan@gmail.com