This ICGEB symposium on COVID-19 is open to the whole ICGEB constituency and will provide an update on the current pandemic in multiple key regions of the world.

The event intends to highlight ICGEB activities related to COVID-19 and to get a feedback from our Member States on how to cooperate at best against future challenges. "Meet the speaker" sessions will be organised for this event.

Topics will include:

- Current and expected evolution of COVID-19 pandemics
- Tools to study SARS-CoV-2 infection
- New mechanisms of disease
- Anti-viral drug development
- Vaccines
- Immune response to SARS-CoV-2 infection

Participants

- The Symposium is open to scientists from ICGEB Member States
- Prior basic working knowledge is of advantage, but not strictly a must
- No registration fee is charged to attend this event
